Lyrics

These silver tears and stone-cold fears
My boat submerged, I drift for years
I hear the sirens sing
You've found your deliverance
A child no more
A time for believing
Far from the shore
Through tides I row
I go and I know that we live our lives
through circumstance

I'm not the same, quenched by the sea
My clipper's game has poisoned me
I pull myself to land
On the shores of Australia
I goad my fate
Lost and still leaving
Bound for the gate
Through hell I pray
I say, come what may I see myself a dupe
to circumstance

A flightless bird
Through hell I row
A life absurd
I've found my deliverance
A child in need
My deceptions surrounding me
A desperate plea
I was, we were You'll be lost at sea but with pride you'll give fight to circumstance, fight to circumstance

These silver tears
I've found my deliverance
